Hi Orlando Lady Devs! ☀️

It's been great seeing you at Meetups, engaged on Slack, and sharing our work on social media. There's so much going on this summer, and I'm excited to tell you about it! Join us at our virtual summer kickoff meeting on Tuesday, 7/29. RSVP here.

Summer Learning

- Server side programming study group weekly on Thursdays (join us!)
- Python programming study group weekly on Saturdays (join us!)

Professional Development

- We'll be instituting a leadership board for Orlando Lady Devs, so come to our summer kickoff meeting to learn more, and stay tuned for a board-specific meeting
- We'll be hosting a resume & hiring workshop in the first half of July with Nina Jacinto of Nina Jacinto Coaching. Nina is currently the Vice President of People & Culture for an e-commerce startup in the Bay Area where she oversees the Human Resources function of the company and advise the Executive Leadership on how best to support the people on the team. Prior to this role, she held people operations and risk management roles at various nonprofit/social sector organizations including: DataKind, Citizen Engagement Lab, and Forward Together (formerly Asian Communities for Reproductive Justice).

Volunteering

- We are kicking off a volunteer project on 7/11. RSVP for the kickoff session here. Can't make it? Reach out to Florence or Caitlin on Slack!

Social engagements

- We're looking to get together in person around Orlando. Join us on Tuesday, 7/13 for our first in-person get together! (RSVP here.)

We're increasing our online presence!

- Join us on Slack: <https://tinyurl.com/OrlandoLadyDevsSlack>
- Join our organization github (new!): <https://github.com/OrlandoLadyDevs>
- Connect with us on Twitter! <https://twitter.com/OrlandoLadyDevs>

Can't wait to see you soon!
